

Introducing The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Handbook

The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Handbook was created in response to requests from Spanish reading teachers who had observed the joy and success of students learning to read and write in English with Animated-Literacy™ and the Animated-Alphabet™. After searching and finding no similar materials available to teach in Spanish, a group of teachers asked if they could help develop a Spanish version of Animated Literacy™. The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Handbook represents the hard work and contributions of many dedicated teachers.

The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Handbook* Includes:

27 Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Stories Designed To Introduce & Reinforce Letters & Sounds

27 Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Characters & Songs

A CD Of The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Songs

Suggested Themes & Topics For Integrating Literature With The Alphabet Stories & Songs

Reproducible Animated-Alphabet™ Pictures With Words To The Songs

A Suggested Sequence That Enables Students To Start Reading & Writing Words After Learning Only Two Letters & Sounds

A Sequence of Drawing and Labeling Lessons For Teaching Decoding Skills

Sample Pattern Songs For Key Word Substitution Activities

The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Handbook introduces letter sounds and symbols through storytelling and songs. Each letter and sound is accompanied by a gesture. The gestures help students remember and use the sounds and letters to read and write words. As letters and sounds are introduced, they are used to label objects. The objects that students label are introduced through a sequence of guided drawing and labeling lessons.

After learning to draw and label an object, the students write about their pictures and use the names of the objects to replace key words in pattern word substitution songs.

The methods and materials in this handbook are both fun and effective when used with Spanish speaking students and with students who are learning Spanish as a second language.

Letra “O” Oscar Oso

Había una vez un oso que se llamaba Oscar. A Oscar le gustaba comer miel de abejas. Un día Oscar estaba buscando miel en el bosque. Encontró a una oveja que le dijo en donde podía encontrar un árbol con un panal de abejas. Encontró el árbol y puso la mano dentro del hoyo en el árbol para sacar la miel.

Las abejas que estaban dentro del panal se enojaron y empezaron a picarle a Oscar. Pero el pelo del oso era tan grueso que las abejas no lo pudieron picar. Entonces ocho abejas salieron del hoyo y le picaron en la nariz.

Cuando le picaron en la nariz le dolió mucho a Oscar y dijo: “OOOO!” Se tapó la nariz con la mano. Desde ese día Oscar se cubre la nariz cuando busca miel para que no le vayan a picar las abejas. Cuando vean la letra “O” piensen en Oscar y hagan la señal de cuando le picaron las abejas en la nariz y él dijo “OOOOO.”

The “Phonetic Sign” For “Oo”

“OOOO” (a painful sound) Put hand over nose and say Oscar’s sound.

More Actions To Accompany The Story

Oscar Oso (bear) Hold arms out to sides and “lumber” or pretend to walk like a bear.
oveja (sheep) Move hand in a stroking motion in front of body as if petting a sheep.
hoyo (hole) Make a circle with hands and “look” through it.
ocho (eight) Hold up eight fingers.

Oscar Oso’s Song (Tune: Fray Felipe or “Frère Jacques”)

Oscar Oso, Oscar Oso

Place both hands around eyes forming the letter “O.”

Busca miel, Busca miel

Place right hand over eyebrows as if looking into the distance.

Encuentra un hoyito, Mete la manita

Make the letter “O” with hands overhead.

Come miel, Come miel

With one hand, reach into the circle formed overhead, remove honey, and eat it.

Viene una abeja, viene una abeja

Place one hand on top of the other hand and move your thumbs like wings.

Le pica a él, le pica a él

Touch the tip of your nose with your index finger.

Oscar echa un grito, Oscar echa un grito

Place the finger tips of both hands on your nose.

Ooo, Ooo, Ooo Ooo, Ooo, Ooo

Hold your injured nose with both hands.

Oscar Oso

Tune: Fray Felipe (Frère Jacques)

Oscar Oso, Oscar Oso
Busca miel, Busca miel

Encuentra un hoyito, Mete la manita
Come miel, Come miel

Viene una abeja, viene una abeja
Le pica a él, le pica a él
Oscar echa un grito, Oscar echa un grito
Ooo, Ooo, Ooo Ooo, Ooo, Ooo

The Animated-Alphabet™ “Spanish Word Wall”

Historically, there has always been a strong link between art and print. Pictures on cave walls may have been the first form of written communication. The earliest calligraphers were artists. Teaching printing as an extension of drawing, combining encoding and decoding skills with drawing, and developing a vocabulary of objects that students can draw, label, write about, and use to rewrite and illustrate pattern songs and stories is a powerful and exciting addition to any language arts program.

Through the following sequence, students begin encoding, decoding, drawing, and labeling objects after only two letters and sounds have been introduced. As each additional sound and letter symbol or pattern is introduced, students combine the new sound and symbol(s) with previous ones to read, write, draw and label objects. The new picture and word can then be added to the classroom “Picture Word Wall.” Throughout the year, words from the word wall can be used to replace people, objects, and animals in the pattern songs and stories that the class rewrites and illustrates through word substitution. Students also enjoy writing sentences and stories about their pictures.

A total of 140 step-by-step drawing activities are provided to reinforce each sound and gesture and develop word recognition skills. Once students become confident at labeling objects with one word, they move on to labeling the parts of each picture. Words that describe the parts of the objects and actions performed by the objects and their parts can then be added to form noun and verb phrases.

A Sample Suggested Sequence With Sample Drawings

A, M, P, T, R, “hard” C, S, O, G, B, L, F, RR, N, E, V, D, U, Z, Ñ,
I, LL, H, J, CH, “soft” C, “soft” G, QU, Y, K

6. Introduce the sound and gesture for “S.”
Teach students to draw and print “casa.”
7. Introduce the sound and gesture for “O.”
Teach students to draw and print “oso”
“sapo” and “mosca.”
8. Introduce the sound and gesture for “G.”
Teach students to draw and print “gato.”

Adding More Labels To The Drawing & Labeling Process

When first starting the drawing and labeling process, the students copy as the teacher draws and labels each picture one step at a time. As the process continues, the teacher may add more labels to each picture as the students follow along on their papers. Teachers first expand the labeling process by modeling the printing of words that name the parts of each drawing. This provides many more opportunities to work on decoding and word recognition skills as the students gesture and blend the sounds to decode each word or gesture the sounds and name the letters needed to spell a word.

As students become more skilled at printing and word recognition, the teacher can begin adding words to describe the parts of each drawing as illustrated below. Verbs can also be added to name ways that the parts of each picture might move or actions that they might perform. After the guided portion of the lesson has been completed, the students add more labels independently and write stories about their pictures. In later stages, the students draw independently, label their pictures, and write about their pictures. Here students can either draw by using the steps from the handbook or they can create their own illustrations.

Cover directions when duplicating for student use. Completed papers can be sent home or bound into a class book.

Sample Pocket Chart

Vengan a ver mi casa	sample substitution
que es hermosa .	repeat first two lines
El gato	sample substitution, place a toy next to the word
hace asi miau	sample substitution repeat lines 3 & 4
O ven amigo ,	sing two times
o ven, o ven, o ven .	repeat last two lines

Note: Mi Granja is an excellent song for substituting animal names and their sounds for those in an old pattern. Children may also substitute names of places (or locations) for “granja,” and the letters used to spell the animal’s sound (or action) for “miau.” Mi Granja is recorded in both English and Spanish on the cassette tape of Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Songs and on tape 2 of Variations On Traditional Pattern Songs from J. Stone Creations. Alma Flor Ada’s Días Y Días De Poesía from Hampton-Brown Books includes a version entitled Mi Chacra. Jose-Luis Orozco has recorded the song (called La Granja on his tape) on Lirica Infantil vol. 3. The song is also known as Mi Rancho on recordings from other artists.

#9 CD CD Of The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Songs

THE SPANISH ANIMATED-ALPHABET™ SONGS

Sung by Lupe Espinosa
Played by Drew Gallahar
Words by Blanca E. Margetts

Recording Notes: Each Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Song is recorded two times. The songs are first presented in Alphabetical order on track numbers 1 through 27. Each song is then repeated in the suggested sequence on track numbers 37 through 63. Tracks 28 through 33 provide the traditional words to the melodies used for the songs. Tracks 34, 35, and 36 provide three traditional pattern songs for word substitution. These three tracks are sung and played in both English and Spanish by Jim and Theresa Hinton. A complete list of the tracks and song titles is provided on the back of the CD case.

Samples From The Spanish Read-Along, Sing-Along Book Of Animated-Alphabet™ Songs

The Spanish Read-Along, Sing-Along Book (73 pages) includes each of the songs from the CD of Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ Songs. The words to the songs are presented in large, bold print that makes it easy for teachers to model the tracking of words from left to right and from the top to the bottom of each page. Each page is 11 inches wide and 8.5 inches tall. The book is printed on light card stock and is spiral bound to open and lay flat.

When first introducing the songs to young children, the teacher models the gesturing of the words one phrase at a time as the students listen, watch, and imitate the teacher's words and gestures. Once the students have learned the gestures, the teacher can track the words from this book with a finger as the students sing and gesture while listening to the song on the CD.

After modeling tracking a few times, teachers can photo copy a song, laminate it, and place it in the classroom library for students to read, sing, and track independently. As new songs are introduced, they can be laminated and bound with previous songs to form a classroom book of the songs that the children have learned. Teachers can also duplicate the songs and send them home with their students.

In homes where books are scarce, The Spanish Animated-Alphabet™ songs have helped many families establish a bedtime story tradition. In other homes, these songs have become an important addition to the bedtime story session.
